It is Finished!

So often, we look back on our work and wonder what we could have done differently. Whether we question the workmanship of a home-improvement project, the accuracy of an academic pursuit, or the wisdom of a financial decision, we often finish tasks with questions, doubts, or regrets.

Jesus, however, loudly proclaimed, "It is Finished!" at the end of His work on the cross. No regrets, no unfinished business, no imperfection in the quality of His work! Three little words with huge impact--a declaration of His victory over death, which He sealed three days later when He rose triumphantly from the grave!

As the United States Congress debates over making Easter Monday a federal holiday, let's all realize that this weekend celebrates more than a tradition or holiday, it is a remembrance that what we lost with sin in the garden was regained on the cross. The sin that ushered in death for us was defeated with life--the life of Jesus Christ!

As we all celebrate this weekend, let us all take time to thank Jesus for all He gave so that we can have life with Him! Again, no regrets with His plan, no unfinished work--"It is finished!" The promise of eternal life!
